WORKSHOPS

Digital Tools for Teachers - presented by Daniel Donahoo

An engaging multimedia and hands-on session will introduce teachers to the latest gizmos and gadgets that can be used in the classroom, but also look at more ubiquitous technology and how it can be used in innovative ways.

- How many uses are there for a mobile phone in the classroom?
- How can digital images, video and audio be adapted to the classroom?
- How do the digital tools we use link to popular culture, and what does that mean for education?

Rather than just sharing a million websites, this session will look at when you should use digital tools to be effective and useful - not just for the sake of it with a chance to have a play with them on the Experimedia Macs.

Of course - we will also look at the new and shiny toys:

- What good iPad apps are there for teachers?
- What is a Nazbatag?
- Why every teacher should have a litescribe pen?
- How will "the internet of things" change the classroom?
